PREFACE.

For the purpose of preserving what information I have been able to gather of the Proctor family, in England and after coming to New England, I publish the following. Commencing with Robert Proctor of Concord, I give what may be considered a correct genealogy of my branch of the family, together with what information I have of the other branches.

The work was commenced more for amusement than otherwise, but as it progressed interest was increased until I determined to submit in this form for future generations what I could collect, without becoming responsible for anything beyond what I know to be true from personal knowledge.

WILLIAM LAWRENCE PROCTOR.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., 1897.

The above, written by Mr. Proctor toward the close of his life, indicates his purpose in respect to this work. In 1873 he had gathered some information concerning the family which he preserved in a small pamphlet. Afterwards he received from various sources a much larger amount of material which he had begun to arrange for publication when a serious illness unfitted him for accomplishing his purpose. Partly to interest his mind in something pleasant and to give occupation, I continued to write to different persons, arranging as best I could what was obtained.

In the early part of 1897 a large amount of material was received from Frank W. Proctor, Esq. of Andover, N. H., (No. 444:1) who had been more than ten years in gathering it but was not well enough to complete the work and was quite willing to add his collections to that already obtained. I think he has furnished far more than any other individual, and therefore should receive the largest share of thanks.

Next to him Mr. Oliver Proctor of Townsend Harbor, Mass., (No. 390) should be mentioned. He has furnished a large amount of data, especially concerning the line of Robert's son Peter. He has also done very much by correspondence in many directions to awaken an interest in Proctor genealogy.

The genealogy of the families of Solomon⁵, Thomas⁵, Experience², John⁵, (Capt. Leonard⁴, Thomas³, Samuel², Robert¹) is contributed by Anne D. Proctor, assisted by Mrs. Elizabeth Marion (Proctor) Churchill of St. Louis, Mo., Mrs. Valeria (Blood-Proctor) French and Albin S. Burbank of Proctorsville, Vermont. These families comprise numbers 127, 128, 131, 132, 257-259, 269-279, 502-507, 517-526, 642, 643. To Miss Proctor (No. 258:1) is due the entire credit for furnishing and arranging the matter and correcting the proof sheets under these numbers and in the notes under her initials on pages 246 and 290.

Several others have responded nobly and have rendered valuable assistance. If time and space would permit I would like to mention each by name, but in spirit I would take them by the hand and heartily thank them all for the kindness with which they have answered every appeal for assistance in the prosecution of the work.

Among the books that have been found useful are Allen's History of Chelmsford, Mass., Rev. E. R. Hodgman's History of Westford, J. G. Locke's "Book of Lockes," all loaned by Oliver Proctor, Hudson's History of Lexington and "The Dows or Dowse Family in America," compiled by Azro M. Dows of Lowell, Mass., which we were permitted to use through the kindness of Miss Amanda Dows of Cazenovia, N. Y. (No. 248:1). We have consulted everything in the Congressional Library at Washington which we thought could assist us, from Savage's Genealogical Dictionary to books relating to single families only.

All the material might have been collected and still the book have failed of completion had not some one competent to arrapge it for the press come to our assistance. The summer of 1897 found Professor Henry E. Sawyer of Washington, D. C., providentially in our home. In response to a half-playful suggestion he undertook to arrange a few pages of contributed matter with no thought of anything further. From this beginning, however, he has been kept seriously at work for months in correspondence, preparing copy, and carrying the book through the press.

We wish to express our greatful appreciation of all help and trust the book will repay all who have assisted in its preparation by being more nearly complete than otherwise it could have been. We have not been able to reach every family, and frequently hear of new branches. But we have reached a point where it seems necessary to call a halt. We have added blank leaves so that each family may make its own additions or corrections.

He who began the work has been called above to join the ancestors of years ago leaving us with the task to finish. It may not be done as well as he would have done it, but in loving memory of him it has been carried to such completeness as was possible. Those who have ever undertaken this kind of work will appreciate its difficulties, and doubtless will find much to criticise. But they will know that it is almost impossible to avoid errors in a volume containing several thousand names and dates belonging to hundreds of widely scattered and constantly changing families. Some mistakes are due to indistinctness or conflicting statements in communications. A few errors involving only differences of a few days in dates have not been corrected, as the necessary changes can so easily be made by those interested.

No genealogy that we have examined is perfect and we know that this is not. But such as it is we send it forth on its mission, trusting that many in whose veins flows the blood of ROBERT PROCTOR will find pleasure in its perusal and that it will awaken in some one a desire to follow out more completely the lines of descent herein recorded.

Persons noticing errors in the book are kindly requested to report them to the undersigned, and if descendants of Robert Proctor who may have genealogical notes not included herein will send copies of them to me it will be regarded as a favor.

DOLLY PAULINE PROCTOR.

INTRODUCTION.

FROM "A History of Northumberland," published by Andrew Reid & Co., Newcastle-upon-Tyne, it appears that "the Proctor family, originally settled in Yorkshire, was established at Shawdon at the beginning of the sixteenth century, through the marriage of William Proctor of Nether Bordley, to Isabel, daughter of John Lilburn of Shawdon."

From "Notes from the Beauchamp Proctor family in England," it appears that William De Beauchamp, cousin of John, Earl of Pembroke, who died in 1375, held the Manor of Tottenham by virtue of a grant from him, and Ephraim Beauchamp possessed lands in the same Manor which afterwards vested in George Beauchamp Proctor, Esq., of Thetford in Norfolk, by a bequest thereof from his father, Sir William Beauchamp Proctor. This circumstance tends not a little to establish the descent of the present family.

In the parish church of St. Olard, in the city of York, is an early record of the Proctor family in the following inscription on a monument :

HERE LYETH THE BODY OF
 IVAN FARLEY, WIFE OF IABEN FARLEY, AND DAUGHTER OF
 JOHN PROCTOR, OF LANKLAND HALL.
 Who died at the age of 86 years, 1602.

The arms of the Proctor family (see frontispiece) were granted A. D. 1436, and the shield is described as "argent with two chevrons sable, between three martlets sable." The chevron is used to distinguish those families who came over with William the Conqueror, and the martlet to mark the younger branches in contradistinction to the main stem.

There is evidence that John, Richard, George and Robert Proctor came across the water and settled in Massachusetts between the years 1635 and 1643. It is probable that some if not all of these four were descendants of the William above mentioned, although it is not possible at present to establish the fact of such descent.

It is not certain that any one of the four was related to any of the others. But coming from England so nearly at the same time, and settling as they did within such short distances of one another, it seems reasonable to suppose that some, if not all, of them were brothers, or at least that there was some relationship existing among them.

John settled in Ipswich. Records show that he came from London in the ship "Susan & Ellen," in 1635, when he was forty years old. With him came his wife Martha and two children, John, aged three years and Mary, one year. He was afterwards settled in Salem. His will, proved Nov. 28, 1672, names his wife and seven children, viz: John, Joseph, Benjamin, Martha White, Abigail Varney, Sarah Dodge and Hannah Weeden (?). This last named John and his wife were condemned on charge of witchcraft during the execrable fanaticism of 1692. He was executed, but his wife escaped by delay. Two of his daughters were imprisoned on the same charge but probably released without trial. Many descendants of John, the first settler, can be found in Boston and on Cape Ann.

Richard Proctor settled in Yarmouth, where he was living in 1643. No record of his marriage or evidence that he left any posterity has come to hand.

George Proctor settled in Dorchester. His will, dated January 27, 1661, mentions four daughters, Mary, Hannah, Sarah and Abigail, and one son, Samuel, who was made residuary legatee and named as joint executor with his mother. The inventory of the estate, amounting to £458:16:9, was dated February 14, 1661.

Robert Proctor settled in Concord, where he was made a freeman in 1643. He may have come from England with the three already named. There is, however, another tradition concerning his ancestry. Under date of April 26, 1897, Mrs. Lucretia A. Lawrence of Leominster, a daughter of Jacob Proctor of Littleton, Mass., writes as follows: "My father in his last days dwelt much upon the history of his family and events of his early life. He said his grandfather," (who was Nathaniel Proctor, a great-grandson of Robert of Concord) "told him that three brothers from a wealthy family in Scotland came to this country in a ship of their own. One of the brothers settled in or near Chelmsford. The Littleton branch descended from this brother. My father remembered visits back and forth with the Chelmsford relations."

The conflict between these traditions must remain unsettled, at least until additional evidence in favor of one or the other can be obtained.

GENEALOGY.

No. 1.

ROBERT^d PROCTOR, the earliest American ancestor of the families to which this volume is devoted, first appears in this country at Concord, Massachusetts, where he was made a freeman in 1643. He married, Dec. 31, 1645, Jane, the eldest daughter of Richard Hildreth of Concord and Chelmsford, the ancestor of the Hildreths of America, who died at Chelmsford in 1688, and whose younger daughter, Abigail, became the wife of Moses Parker.

In 1653 Robert Proctor, in connection with Richard Hildreth and twenty-seven others, petitioned the General Court for a grant of land six miles square, "to begin at Merrimack river at a neck of land next to Concord river, and so run up by Concord river south, and west into the country to make up that circumference or quantity of land as is above expressed." The petition was granted. In 1654 Mr. Proctor removed to the new plantation which was organized, November twenty-second of that year, as a town under the name of Chelmsford. The first four or five of his children were born in Concord, the others in Chelmsford. His descendants resided in many of the neighboring towns, and at an early date some of them pushed back into the wilderness and settled in New Hampshire, Vermont and New York, and have since scattered over the West.

He died at Chelmsford, April 28, 1697. Letters of administration upon his estate were granted to Jane Proctor, executrix, July 13, 1697. In his will, dated March 10, 1695-6, he speaks of having already deeded lands to his sons Gershom, Peter, James, John, Samuel and Israel, and mentions son Thomas, to whom certain lands are given if he "live and return from Sea to New England;" also daughters Dorothy Barrett, Elizabeth Proctor, Sarah Chamberlain and Mary Bourne. Some of his children settled in what afterwards became the West Precinct, and later the town of Westford. His children were as follows:

THIRD GENERATION.

No. 8.

GERSHOM PROCTOR (Gershom, *Robert*¹). Born at Chelmsford, Apr. 7, 1691; died Feb. 1774. Records are confused and contradictory in regard to the date of his birth. There appear to have been "two and perhaps three different sets of old records in Chelmsford, such as parish, town and church records, but there was not one continuous record of births, marriages and deaths kept in one place and made by the same authority." The record which usually has been followed gives Apr. 24, 1693, as the date of Gershom's birth and July 8, 1693, as that of his brother Jonathan's. Obviously here is an error. Another record is as follows: "Gershom, son of Gershom and Sarah Proctor, born Apr. 7, 1691." This is verified by a record of the funeral, Feb. 19, 1774, of "Gershom Proctor aged 83," and consequently assumed to be correct. He married, in 1721 or 1722, Rebecca Parker, who died in 1776. His children were as follows :

- | | | | |
|-----|------|--|-----|
| 26. | I. | Gershom ¹ , b. Mar. 29, 1723. | |
| | II. | Sarah, b. Dec. 26, 1725. | |

JONATHAN PROCTOR (*Gershom*², *Robert*¹). Born at Chelmsford, July 8, 1693; married Elizabeth Robbins, and removed to Harvard, Mass., where he died, Oct. 2, 1755. His children were as follows :

- | | | |
|--|------|--|
| | I. | Elizabeth ¹ , b. Mar. 17, 1721. |
| | II. | Jonathan, b. Mar. 21, 1723; d. June 3, 1741. |
| | III. | Jacob, b. Nov. 24, 1724; d. Jan. 3, 1746. |
| | IV. | Ephraim, b. 1726; d. Sept. 11, 1745. |

| | VI. | Amos, b. Jan. 22, 1739; d. Sept. 5, 1749. |

Town records of Harvard mention deaths of two other daughters of Jonathan and Elizabeth Proctor, namely :

- | | |
|--------------------------|-----|
| Ruth, d. Sept. 24, 1737. | |
| Hannah, d. Apr. 6, 1741. | 70. |

HANNAH¹ PROCTOR (Israel¹, Gershom², Robert¹). Born at Chelmsford, Feb. 2, 1743-4; married, in 1770, David Danforth of Billerica. In 1775 they removed to Washington, then called Camden, N. H., and settled near the eastern side of Millen Pond. Mr. Danforth was one of thirty who signed a petition, dated Sept. 22, 1776, for the incorporation of Camden as a town by the name of Washington. It is said that this was the first time that the name, which already had become familiar and honored throughout the land, was given to a town. In July 1777 Mr. Danforth, with sixteen others marched to Otter Creek, Vt., under the command of Captain Jonathan Brockway, and in October of the same year he was in Col. Bellows' regiment which went to Saratoga to reinforce the Continental army under General Gates. In 1786 he was one of the committee chosen by the town to procure materials for building a

WILLIAM¹ PROCTOR (*Israel*², *Gershom*², *Robert*¹). Born at Chelmsford, Feb. 20, 1748. He married, May 11, 1769, Mary, daughter of Oliver⁴ (No. 38) and Mary (Parker) Proctor, and removed, with his sister Hannah and his brother Nathan, to what was afterward Washington, N. H. This removal is said to have taken place in 1775. If dates are given correctly, the little company which he led out into a distant and almost unbroken wilderness must have comprised, with six adults, at least four young children. Their journey may be described in the language which the historian of Washington uses concerning that of the first settlers who, but seven years earlier, came from New Ipswich, N. H., and built the first log cabin in the township within whose limits "no traces of white men or Indians were to be seen. The roads were untraveled, poorly made, and a part of the way there was no road at all, they being obliged to find their way by means of marked trees. When a stream was bridgeless they felled a tree across it for the use of the women and children, and the men rode the horses through the stream. They came on foot and on horseback, with children and household goods bound on together, and the journey was attended with many hardships."

Mr. Proctor settled near Millen Pond, but finding the title to his farm defective he soon removed to another where he lived for many years. He was one of the petitioners for the incorporation of the town in 1776, and in July 1777 he was a member of the little company that marched for the country's defense under Captain Brockway. In 1780 and 1781 he was one of the Selectmen, and in 1786 a member of the committee to procure materials for building a meeting-house.

He was known throughout the town and its vicinity as Captain Proctor, and was greatly respected and honored. He spent the last part of his life with his children in the east part of the town, where he died Feb. 19, 1846. His wife died Sept. 22, 1845. After a married life of more than seventy-six years they were less than four months parted by death. Their bodies were buried side by side near the northwest corner of the old cemetery in East Washington. Their children were as follows :

MARY² PROCTOR (William¹, Israel³, Gershom², Robert¹). Born at Chelmsford, Mass., Apr. 6, 1770; married Feb. 24, 1789, Jonathan, son of Captain and Phebe (Smith) Brockway, who removed from Lynn, Conn., and settled in Washington about 1773. Soon after their marriage, Jonathan, jr., and his wife settled in the east part of the town on a tract of land given to Mr. Brockway by his father. In the almost unbroken forest the wife aided with her own hands in erecting their first humble dwelling, and bore her full share of the hardships that had to be endured in subduing the wilderness and building up the new home. It is related that "at one time she left the house for a short time, its only occupant being a sleeping infant; returning she was horrified at the sight of a huge bear entering the front door. Her presence of mind caused her to make no outcry and the bear walked slowly through the house and passed out at the back door, leaving the child unharmed."

For eighty-three years "Aunt Polly," as she was commonly called, lived on the farm where her married life began, dying March 7, 1872, at the great age of one hundred and one years and eleven months. "She retained her mental faculties to the close of life, and entertained many visitors by her interesting and intelligent conversation relating to by-gone times." Her husband died May 22, 1847. THOMAS PROCTOR born in Westford, Mass., May 19, 1776, died in Proctorsville, Vermont, October 13, 1867; married 1st, Abigail (Atwood) Searle (widow of Jonathan Searle of Temple, N. H.,) Sept. 15, 1799; she was the daughter of Joshua Atwood and Esther (Chamberlain) Atwood and was born in Templeton, Mass., in 1774, her father, Joshua Atwood, was in the Continental service until his son Thomas was old enough "to take his place"

(Archives of Mass.); she died at "Twenty-Mile-Stream," in Cavendish, July 27, 1851, aged 77 years; he married 2nd, Mrs. Sally Hemenway of Ludlow, Vermont, January 8, 1859, she died February 23, 1859, aged 75. Thomas⁵ Proctor was son of Capt. Leonard⁴ Proctor (Thomas³, Samuel², Robert¹) and Mary (Keep) Proctor 2nd wife of Capt. Leonard⁴ Proctor, (his first wife was Lydia (Nutting) Proctor, mother of Philip⁵, Abel⁵, Leonard⁵, and Asa⁵ all of whom served in the war of the Revolution, ages from fifteen to eighteen), after the war was over they removed from Westford, Mass., to Vermont, settling in that part of Cavendish which is now Proctorsville, and was then a wilderness. Thomas⁵ Proctor was then a lad, he lived with his father until his marriage when his father gave him a farm which he cared for until he removed to the Northern part of Vermont, Lowell or "Kellyvale," which at the time offered great inducements for emigration, after a few years he returned and bought his Twenty-Mile-Stream farm which was near an encampment of the Revolution which was called by that name. After the death of his wife in 1851, he gave up the farm and resided for a time with his daughter in Massachusetts, but spent the last years in Proctorsville where he died at the age of ninety-one years and four months. He was very happy, kept up a large correspondence with all branches of the family and was greatly interested in the Townley-Lawrence affairs, was perfectly clear in mind, had many stories and reminiscences with which to entertain his visitors. One of his grand-daughters remembers hearing him talk about the "dark day" which was when he was four years old, "the darkness was so thick you could feel it, the candles were lighted, the fowls went to roost and my mother told the maids to put their wheels aside for they could not see to spin." The day of his death he said to his daughter he was "willing to go if it was God's will, though he would like to live a little longer to see how his grandchildren came on." His was a very happy, peaceful, interested old age. After his death the family received letters from great distances, concerning the Townley-Lawrence Estate, showing his correspondence had been very extensive and the postmaster said that he received more letters than any one in Proctorsville. His children:

H., and her father was Joshua Atwood, who served in the War of the Revolution, when his son Thomas was old enough "to take his place, he was discharged," [Archives of Massachusetts], with the Continental money received in payment for his services, he bought land in Temple, N. While at this business he was for a short time proprietor of the then popular old Marlboro Hotel, which was, in those days, the home of the Governor of the State of Massachusetts and the Senators and Representatives while Legislature was in session. Later his business was wool and country produce, Proctor & Wood; for several years before his death he was a commission merchant in wool and cotton, having mills in Vermont and consigning the goods to a firm in New York. REDFIELD⁶ PROCTOR (*Jabez*⁷, *Leonard*⁸, *Thomas*⁹, *Samuel*¹⁰, *Robert*¹¹). Born at Proctorsville, Vt., June 1, 1831, graduated at Dart. Coll., 1851; married, May 26, 1858, Emily J. Dutton of Cavendish, Vt. He served in the Civil War as Lieut. and Quartermaster of the Second Vermont Regiment, Major of the Fifth, and Colonel of the Fifteenth; Member of House of Representatives, Vermont, 1867, 1868 and 1888; Member and President pro tem. of the State Senate, 1874 to 1876; Lieut. Governor of Vermont, 1876 to 1878; Governor, 1878 to 1880; Delegate-at-Large to Republican National Conventions, 1884, 1888 and 1896, and Chairman of Delegation, 1888 and 1896; Secretary of War, Mar. 4, 1889 to Dec. 7, 1891; appointed U. S. Senator, Dec. 7, 1891, and elected to the same office, Oct. 1892, for term ending March 4, 1893, and for term ending Mar. 4, 1899.

A single incident will illustrate his character and the thoroughness of his work. During the session of Congress in 1897-8, as in the preceding session, there was much earnest discussion concerning affairs in Cuba where a revolution was in progress. Among senators, as among the people at large, there existed wide differences of opinion as to the character, condition and prospects of the insurgents and the treatment of the people by the Spanish troops. Recognition of the independence of Cuba was strongly and persistently urged and as persistently opposed. It was impossible to learn the truth from newspaper reports or partisan speeches. In these circumstances, in February, 1898, Senator Proctor visited Cuba, going at his own charges and on his own responsibility, in order that he might be able from personal observation to speak and act wisely in reference to this important matter. He spent considerable time on the island, traveled quite extensively, conversed with American consuls, Spanish officers, business men of various nationalities, and visited hospitals and places where reconcentrados were herded together. On the seventeenth of March he gave to the Senate an account of his observations. This speech, by reason of its calm and dispassionate style, as well as on account of the unquestioned sincerity and ability of its author, was accepted by all parties as a final and authoritative statement of the conditions in Cuba and had a powerful influence in determining the action of the nation with reference to those conditions. It was translated wholly or in part into most of the languages of the civilized world. Senator Hoar said in a public address that in his opinion "the resolutions of Congress demanding the evacuation of Cuba by Spain, which brought on the war, were the result, not of the destruction of the Maine, but of Senator Proctor's report that half a million people were being starved to death at our very doors," and Ex-President Harrison, in taking the chair at a meeting of the Red Cross society at Elberon, N. J., said: "That quiet recital made by Senator Proctor of Vermont in the United States Senate aroused the nation. I do not think there has been made in any legislative assembly of the world in fifty years a speech that so powerfully affected public sentiment. And yet there was not a lurid adjective in the speech."

Senator Proctor resides at Proctor, Vt. His children, as follows:

WILLIAM LAWRENCE⁷ PROCTOR (Israel⁶, Israel⁵, William⁴, Israel³, Gershom², Robert¹). Born at East Washington, N. H., Mar. 26, 1837; educated in the district school and in the academies in Washington and New London, N. H. In Sept. 1857 he went to Burlington, Vt., to work for his uncle Lawrence Barnes in the lumber business, and in June 1859 he was sent by a firm in which his uncle was a partner, to conduct a branch of the business just established in Ogdensburg, N. Y., which city became his home for the remainder of his life. He continued in the management of the business until failing health compelled his retirement nearly two years before his death, and under his wise and enterprising direction it became one of the largest lumber concerns in the world. He early identified himself with the Baptist church in Ogdensburg, was for twenty years Superintendent of its Sunday School, and for a longer time and until his death one of its trustees. He was one of the organizers of the George Hall Company, and the Marine Railway Company, was President of the Republican and Journal Company, a Director of the First National Bank, and a member of the Ogdensburg Club.

He held many public offices but never one to which a salary was attached. He was Village Trustee for two years; an Alderman of the city for three years; Mayor for seven years; member of the Board of Education; one of the Commissioners to build the Town Hall; President of the Superintendents of the Poor for fifteen years; Trustee of the City Hospital, and President of the Cemetery Association. He was one of the managers of the St. Lawrence State Hospital for the Insane and, except for a short time, President of the Board from its organization. He was for fifteen years a member of the State Committee of the Republican party, was a member of the National Conventions of the party in 1884 and 1896, and one of the Presidential Electors in 1888 and voted for Benjamin Harrison.

He died Nov. 19, 1897, at Lakewood, N. J., whither he had gone by the advice of physicians. At his funeral in Ogdensburg flags at half mast and closed places of business throughout the city, the gathering of thousands of sorrowing men, women and children, and the loving tributes of pastors and friends testified to the esteem and affection with which he had been regarded and the general grief at his departure. These expressions were emphasized by numerous letters and telegrams received and by resolutions adopted by various public bodies. A little later the City Council and the Trustees of the Saint Lawrence State Hospital, in accordance with a recommendation of the Board of Public Works, gave the name of Proctor Avenue to the magnificent boulevard which, under his supervision and mainly through his influence and efforts, had been constructed from the east end of Ford street to and through the hospital grounds.

He married, Feb. 12, 1861, Dolly Pauline, daughter of Rev. Joel Manning and Nancy (Cronkhite) Howard, who was born Dec. 16, 1842. His children, as follows:

FAMILIES CONNECTED BY MARRIAGE.

It is manifestly impossible within the limits of a single volume to give much space to many of the families into which Proctors have married. No doubt many of them have excellent connections, and we would be glad to have them all recorded if time and space would allow. Mr. Proctor's purpose at first was only to trace his own branch of the family tree up to the parent stock in this country. We shall therefore carry out his plan as far as practicable, giving to other branches such space as can be afforded.

Gershom², eldest son of Robert and Jane (Hildreth) Proctor, married Sarah Whiteacre or Whittaker. Their son Israel³ married Sarah Raymond, and their son William⁴ married Mary, daughter of Oliver¹ and Mary (Parker) Proctor.

Israel⁵, son of William and Mary Proctor, married Lydia Reed, and their son Israel⁶ married Mary Barnes. William Lawrence⁷, son of Israel and Mary (Barnes) Proctor, married Dolly Pauline Howard, and their son, William Henry⁸, married Mary Edith Raymond.

William Lawrence Proctor was a direct descendant of Peter², the second son of Robert, as well as of Gershom the eldest. Peter married Mary, daughter of James and Rebecca (Stevenson) Patterson. Their son Peter³ married Hannah Harwood, and their son Oliver⁴ married Mary Parker.

Notices of some of the families named above will be given in the order of the generations with which they became connected.

PATTERSON.

James Patterson of Billerica, father of Mary, the wife of Peter² Proctor, probably came from London in November, 1651, in the sad freight of the ship "John and Sarah," and if so he was one of only four or five who prospered here out of as many hundreds of romantic young followers in Scotland of Charles Second, who, in the bloody days of September, in the years 1650 and 1651, were captured on the fields of Cromwell's glory at Dunbar and Worcester, and transported to the colonies to be sold in shambles like cattle. He was brought to Boston. He married, May 29, 1662, Rebecca, daughter of Andrew Stevenson of Cambridge. He served in the war with the Indians in 1675, and with other soldiers, when his merits were duly considered years afterward, was rewarded with a grant of land. He was made a freeman of the colony in 1690, and his will, in which he names his brother-in-law A. Stevenson, was probated in 1701. His children were as follows:

- I. Mary, b. Aug. 22, 1666; m. Jan. 30, 1689, Peter Proctor
- II. James, b. Feb. 28, 1669; d. young
- III. Andrew, b. Apr. 4, 1671.
- IV. John, b. Apr. 8, 1675.
- V. Joseph, b. Jan. 1, 1678.
- VI. Rebecca, b. July 18, 1680; d. young.
- VII. James, b. Apr. 13, 1683.
- VIII. Jonathan, b. Jan. 31, 1686.

ADAMS, FLETCHER AND PARKER.

Abigail (Adams) Parker was daughter of Jonathan or Pelatiah, who were twin sons of Thomas, son of Henry Adams. From this Henry descended Samuel Adams the Patriot, and the Presidents, John and John Quincy Adams.

The children of Aaron and Abigail (Adams) Parker were as follows:

- I. Aaron, m. Mary Barrett, who d. 1737; m. second in 1738, Dorothy Fletcher.
 - II. Samuel, b. 1717; m. 1739, Sarah, dau. of Dea. Joshua Fletcher; m. second, 1748, Mary (Proctor) Robbins (No. 14). Their son Abel (No. 93) was father of Hon. Edmund Parker of Nashua, N. H., Hon. Isaac Parker, a distinguished merchant of Boston, and Chief Justice Joel Parker (No. 93:IX).
 - III. Moses, b. 1718; m. 1744, Bridget Cummings.
 - IV. Abigail, b. 1720; m. John Senter of Londonderry, N. H.
 - V. Mary, b. 1723; m. 1744, Oliver[†] Proctor (No. 38). Their dau. Mary, b. 1749, m. 1769, William[†] Proctor (No. 33).

Note contributed by A. D. P.

The Proctors, Parkers, Fletchers, and Adams, of Chelmsford and Westford, Mass., so often intermarried that some notes concerning these families, which have been carefully examined, and proved, may be interesting to some of the descendants. — Isaac Parker's wife, married February 7, 1785, was Bridget Fletcher of Westford, Mass., daughter of Timothy Fletcher and 1st wife Bridget (Richardson) Fletcher "a woman of distinguished piety and author of a small volume of hymns which was published by her son, Rev. Elijah Fletcher, about 1774." She was the daughter of Capt. Zachariah Richardson of Chelmsford.

One grand-daughter of Timothy and Bridget (Richardson) Fletcher, daughter of Rev. Elijah Fletcher, of Hopkinton, N. H., was Grace Fletcher, 1st wife of Daniel Webster and the mother of his children.

Another grand-daughter, Hannah Parker, daughter of Isaac and Bridget (Fletcher) Parker, married Dr. Peleg Redfield, they were the grandparents of Thomas Redfield Proctor.

Another grand-daughter, Betsey Parker, daughter of Isaac and Bridget (Fletcher) Parker, and a younger sister of Hannah Parker who married Dr. Peleg Redfield, married Jabez Proctor, brother of Thomas. U. S. Senator Redfield Proctor of Vermont is the youngest son of that family. Timothy Fletcher's 2nd wife was widow Huldah Perley, a sister of Gen'l Israel Putnam, "a woman of much energy and courage." His 3rd wife was Hannah³ Proctor, daughter of Philip,⁴ a brother of Capt. Leonard,⁴ (Thomas¹, Samuel², Robert¹) and a sister of Dr. Charles³ Proctor. Her 2nd husband was Major Eleazer Hamlin whose son, by a former wife, was father of Vice-President Hannibal Hamlin, of Maine. She continued at the old homestead to advanced age and died July 7th, 1837, at 90; her remains were deposited in the tomb of her brother, Dr. Charles Proctor. The children of Timothy Fletcher were all by his 1st wife, Bridget.

Timothy Fletcher married Hannah³ Proctor, November 25, 1778. Major Eleazer Hamlin married Hannah³ (Proctor) Fletcher, widow of Timothy Fletcher, June 3, 1789. She was called "grand-mother Hamlin" by the step-grand-children, in the Fletcher and Parker families, whom she remembered in her will. The writer of this note owns a blue broadcloth cloak which was bought with the legacy received by her grandmother who was one of the step-grand-daughters.

Relationship of the Proctors, Parkers, Fletchers, to the Adams family—Henry¹ Adams of Braintree. Lieut. Thomas²

Adams of Braintree, Charlestown, Concord and Chelmsford, Mass., had twin sons Jonathan² and Pelatiah³, born in Concord, Mass. The descent is from Pelatiah³, (Thomas², Henry¹), who had three daughters who married into these families. Pelatiah⁴, born in Concord, Mass., 6-1-1646, died in Chelmsford, Mass., about 1717. Married Ruth ———; daughter Elizabeth Adams, born 26 April, 1680.

“John Cummings and Elizabeth Adams, both of Chelmsford, married October 3, 1705.” (Charlestown Rec.)

Their daughter Bridget² married, 1744, Lieut. Moses¹ Parker, son of Aaron³ who married Abigail⁴ Adams, 1712, sister of Elizabeth¹ Adams who married John Cummings.

Sarah⁴ Adams, (daughter of Pelatiah³ and Ruth) grand-daughter of Lieut. Thomas² Adams, born July 12, 1691, married November 17, 1712, Capt. Joseph¹ Fletcher son of Joshua³ and Sarah (Willey) Fletcher, born June 10, 1689. He died October 4, 1772, in Westford, Mass. She died April, 24, 1761.

REED.

Lydia Reed who married Israel Proctor was of illustrious ancestry, her family having been noted for its revolutionary record and connections, on which account considerable space is here given to it.

There is a family history to the effect that three generations of William Reeds were engaged in serving the American cause at the time of the battle of Lexington, as will appear from the following records which have been gathered from Hudson's History of Lexington, supplemented by records and history in the possession of Reuben L. Reed of South Acton, Mass., and Rev. Frederick Wheeler of West Munroe, N. Y.

The Reeds intermarried with different families in Lexington to such an extent that it seems as if all the members of Captain Parker's company were cousins. Certainly from one third to one half, as the Parkers, Bowmans, Browns, Harringtons, Mullikens, Munroes, Smiths and Stones, beside many others were related to the Reeds. In studying the History of Lexington we seem to be reading a family book, so full is it of incidents relating to this family and its connections.

The Reeds removed from Woburn and settled in Cambridge Farms in 1686. They were in the country considerably earlier, but there is difficulty in tracing the residence of the earliest ancestors of this family, arising from the fact that there were, among the early immigrants, several persons of the same name. But there is evidence that is deemed reliable that William Reed and his wife Mabel, whose maiden name was probably Kendall, from whom most of the Reeds of Lexington descended, came to New England from London, in the ship "Defence," in 1635, bringing with them three children, George, Ralph and Justus. Mr. Reed, was then forty-eight years old and his wife thirty. He settled first in Dorchester, but like many of the early settlers moved from place to place, at least temporarily. In 1639 he sold his real estate in Dorchester and moved to Scituate, where he was constable in 1644. While there he sent his wife to Dorchester on horseback with an infant to be baptized, he being a member of the church in that place. He was probably a resident of Muddy River (now Brookline) in 1658, when he purchased of Nicholas Davis a farm, in Woburn, of some sixty acres, "with all the barns, outhouses, fences, and all to the same belonging." He probably moved to Woburn soon after making this purchase and resided there a few years, when he and his wife returned to England, where he died at Newcastle-upon-Tyne in 1656. He made his will appointing no executor, and Oliver Cromwell made his widow, Mabel, executrix on the last day of October, 1656. She returned to this country to her children, then in Woburn, Nov. 21, 1660. She married Henry Sumner of Woburn, whom she survived, dying in the family of her son George, June 15, 1690, at the age of eighty-five. The children of William¹ and Mabel Reed:

The children of William Reed all lived in Woburn, and George, Ralph and Israel had large families, making the name quite common in that town.

WILLIAM³ REED (*George*², *William*¹). Born Sept. 22, 1662; m. May 24, 1686, Abigail Kendall of Woburn. She had extra fingers and toes, and this peculiarity has appeared from generation to generation in some of her descendants. She died Oct. 12, 1734. Capt. Reed, as he was generally called, may be regarded as the ancestor of most of the Reeds of Lexington. He was one of the most prominent citizens of the town. He was a Justice of the Peace, filled the office of Selectman, and represented the town in the General Court several years. He was equally prominent in the church of which he was one of the original members. He purchased land in the northwesterly part of the town and located on what is now Bedford street. He added to his real estate from time to time and became a large landholder, so that he was able to leave a good farm to each of his sons. A portion of his lands has remained in the family to the present day. Capt. Reed's neighborhood was at one time the most populous part of the town outside of the village. No family of the early settlers has sustained its standing through all periods of the town's history better than the Reeds. Capt. Reed died May 12, 1718. His children were as follows:

1. Abigail, b. May 20, 1687; m. Jonathan Fiske and moved to Sudbury.

WILLIAM¹ REED (*William*², *George*², *William*¹). Born July 18, 1693; married, about 1719, Sarah, daughter of John Poulter, who was descended through her grandmother, Rachel Eliot of Braintree, from Francis Eliot, the youngest brother of John Eliot the Apostle to the Indians. He was an active and efficient man in the church and the town. He was a Justice of the Peace for many years and did considerable business in that capacity so that he became well known in the town and vicinity as Esquire Reed. He was very popular and received all the honors in the gift of the town. Besides holding minor offices he was Selectman for eleven years and Representative for seventeen years. He was also Captain in the militia, and was out with a portion of his company in the French war in 1755. He was the Mr. Reed mentioned in the History of Lexington as assisting in hiding Hancock and Adams in April 1775. His wife died Nov. 25, 1769, and he died Feb. 11, 1778. WILLIAM⁶ REED (William⁵, William⁴, William³, George², William¹). Born Oct. 2, 1742; married, Dec. 1, 1768, Elizabeth Davis of Bedford. He was in Parker's company Apr. 19, 1775, and marched with it to Cambridge, June 17. His wife was a cousin of the brave Capt. Davis who with his brave Acton company led the charge at Concord bridge and was one of the three who received the first fatal shot from the British. This Davis family descended from Dolor Davis and Margery Willard a relative, perhaps sister, of Simon Willard. They came from Kent, Eng., in 1634. The children of Capt. William and Elizabeth (Davis) Reed were as follows.

- I. Elizabeth, b. Mar. 7, 1770; m. Capt. Moses Dinsmore; res. at Washington, N. H., and had no children.
- II. William, b. May 11, 1772; d. Apr. 3, 1776.
- III. Abigail, b. May 8, 1774; m. John Lawrence; res. in Concord; had six children, namely: Susan, John, Joshua, Abigail, Sarah and Eliza.
- IV. Ruth, b. June 9, 1776; m. Capt. Daniel H. Piper; m. second-Lieut. Reuben Law of Sharon, N. H.
- 15. V. William, b. Apr. 5, 1778.
- VI. Lydia, b. Oct. 28, 1781; m. Mar. 7, 1798, Israel Proctor (No. 69 in this volume).
- VII. Hannah, b. Aug. 1, 1783; m. Capt. Theodore Wheeler; res. at Acton; had four children, namely: Thomas Jefferson, Eliza, Frederick and Susan Lawrence.

Family records show that Lydia and Hannah Reed were born at Fitchburg, whither the family removed about 1781, and not at Lexington as stated in the history of that town. Capt. Reed finally settled at Acton where he lived at the time of Lydia's marriage, and where some of his descendants are still to be found.

REUBEN L.⁹ REED (William⁸, William⁷, William⁶, William⁵, William⁴, William³, George², William¹). Born : married Mary A. Symonds; res. at South Acton, Mass., and is Historian of the Bunker Hill Historical Society. His children, as follows:

- I. F. William¹⁰, b. : m. Adeline Fales, and has one child, Charlotte May.
- II. Albert, b.

Mr. Reed has forwarded copies of inscriptions on the "tomb of Wm. Reed, Esq., of Lexington, who died in 1778, aged 85." These inscriptions are interesting but too long for insertion here. Mr. Reed writes, "the records of our ancestor, Wm. Reed, Esq., are to be found in those of the Continental Congress held in Watertown, Mass., April 25, 1775. He was a member of the committee to collect and bring into Congress affidavits concerning the battles of Lexington and Concord. His three sons, William, Josiah and Thaddens were members of Capt. Parker's company. His cousin, James Reed, commanded the Second N. H. regiment at the battle of Bunker Hill, and it is recorded that he lost one hundred and sixty-six in killed and wounded from his regiment. He was one of the first Brigadier Generals appointed by the Provincial Congress. He lost his sight from a fever while at Crown Point, after which he was appointed Commodore in the U. S. Navy in 1778, as stated by Mr. Lossing in his History of the Revolution. He died at Fitchburg, where his memory is honored by the Historical Society."

There appears to be here a confusion of generations. William Reed, Esquire, who died in 1778, aged 85 years, and who was concerned in hiding Hancock and Adams, had no son Thaddeus or Josiah. His son William⁵, born in 1720 had three sons, William, Thaddeus and Josiah, who with himself were in the battle of Lexington. This William⁵ had also a cousin James⁵, son of Joshua, who was born between 1730 and 1739, who was probably the Brigadier General.

More than fifty different Reeds are recorded as having served in the Revolution from Massachusetts. On the nineteenth of April, 1775, George Reed, Jabez Wyman, and Isaac Muzzy were killed. They were all descendants of William Reed.

BARNES.

Mary (Barnes) Proctor, mother of the compiler, was descended on her father's side from Thomas Barnes, who crossed the Atlantic on the "Speedwell" in 1656. Asa Barnes, a descendant of Thomas, b. 1756, d. 1812, resided in Marlboro, Mass. His son Eber, the father of Mary, removed early in life to Hillsborough, N. H. He married Mary Adams who was born in Henniker, Aug. 27, 1786.

One of their children was Lawrence Barnes who passed the greater part of his life in Burlington, Vt., where he did a prosperous business in lumber, and where he was always ready to do his part in helping any good cause. Burlington will not soon forget Lawrence Barnes.

The following concerning the family of Mary Adams, the mother of Mary Barnes, is taken from Col. L. W. Cogswell's History of Henniker, supplemented by family records.

The Adams family was at one time very numerous in Henniker and comprised some of the earliest settlers and most enterprising citizens. They were descendants of Richard Adams, a tailor, who came from Devonshire, Eng. He was at Salem, Mass., in 1638, and at Newbury in 1640. His wife's name was Eleanor. She d. June 12, 1677.

The records are incomplete, but Israel Adams, who is said to have been a descendant of the immigrant, Richard, lived in Rowley, Mass., where his son Aaron was born in 1739. This son, known as:

Capt. Aaron Adams settled in Henniker soon after its incorporation as a town. He m. Betsy ———. He was for many years one of the most influential men of the town was one of the Selectmen in 1773, '74, '75 and '86; Representative in the Legislature in 1798 and '99; was Lieutenant in the N. H. HOWARD.

Dolly Paulina Howard, wife of William Lawrence Proctor, No. 307 in this volume, is descended from a family whose name is variously spelled Haieward, Hayward and Howard. The pedigree of the family is given more fully than elsewhere by Ballou in his History of Milford, Mass. He refers to Hon. Alphonso Taft as having given him some points that he accepted and others that he rejected. Mrs. Lucy Hall Greenlaw at one time looked up the origin of the family in America and, from search made in the Congressional Library, I am satisfied that she is correct in her conclusion that this branch of the family starts from William Hayward who, at the age of eighteen, on Apr. 27, 1635, recorded his intention to sail in the ship "Ann and Elizabeth" from England to Barbadoes. In the same ship came John Haieward aged twenty-two, Marjorie Barron aged nineteen, and Margery Harding aged twenty. From their ages it seems quite probable that John and William were brothers.

Whether John was the ancestor of the Howards of Bridgewater, Mass., and Leeds, Me., or not I am unable to discover. Their ancestor John settled in Duxbury and is said to have come from England prior to 1643. He was one of the original proprietors of West Bridgewater and was the ancestor of Major General Oliver O. Howard.

William¹ settled at Braintree, Mass., and was drowned May 10, 1659. His wife's name was Margery, probably one of the two by that name who came in the ship with him, but which one cannot be learned. Ballou reports Hon. A. Taft as saying that her name was Thayer. She died "the 18th day of the 5th month, 1676." The children of William and Margery Hayward were as follows:

- I. Huldah², b. : m. June 14, 1652, Ferdinand Thayer, a prominent and influential man, one of the first settlers of Mendon. She d. Sept. 1, 1690.
2. II. Samuel, b.
- III. William, b. : m. first, Sarah Butterworth; m. second, May 6, 1708, Priscilla (Tompkins) Marsh; d. Dec. 17, 1717.
- IV. Jonathan, b. 1611.

Ballou, Hist. of Milford, p. 812, gives two deeds from Suffolk Registry. One, dated 1706-7, conveys a certain estate to William Hayward of Mendon, who married Esther, dau. of John Harbor. The other, dated May 2, 1712, is a gift deed from William Hayward of Mendon to his son Samuel, in which Priscilla, his wife, relinquishes her dower. Ballou says he is unable to place these Williams in their proper relations. According to these deeds our arrangement is correct, as William² had a son Samuel.

SAMUEL² HAYWARD (*William*¹). Born : m. Mehitable, dau. of John and Sarah (Woodman) Tompkins; married second, Jan. 15, 1701, Elizabeth (Sabin) Millard, dau. of John Sabin and wid. of Robert Millard. He lived at Braintree, Swanzev and Mendon, buying twenty acres in the last named town in 1671. He also had twenty acres as an original proprietor of Mendon. Being thus owner of forty acres he was entitled to very large dividends from the common lands, tracts of which amounting to from five hundred to one thousand acres, lying on both sides of Charles River, were laid out to him. He was one of the original settlers of Mendon, but he left there at the time of King Philip's war and returned after it was ended in 1677. He died July 29, 1713. His children were as follows:

Gouverneur, N. Y., May, 1850.

All the sons except Ralph removed to Jamaica, Vt., where they were among the first settlers, and Silas was the town's first Representative in the Legislature. The Vermont families wrote the name Howard.

Several people of worth and prominence have descended from this family, but I am not able at present to place them in their exact connections. Among them are the following:

Jacob M. Howard of Detroit, who was born in Shaftesbury, Vt., of whom the History of Detroit says, "He drew up the platform of the first Convention of the Republican party in 1854, and is said to have given the party its name." I heard my father say that he was called the father of the Republican Party. He was Attorney General of Michigan, took part in all public ceremonies in the city of Detroit, and from 1862 to 1871 was United States Senator.

Vice-President Wheeler's wife was a grand-daughter of either a son or a daughter of this family.

My father used to visit a Mrs. Stevens in Montreal who was his cousin. Her sons are now prominent business men in that city.

RAYMOND.

Mary Edith Raymond, wife of William H. Proctor, No. 548 in this volume, is descended from Capt. William Raymond of Salem, Mass., who was born 1637 and married Hannah Bishop. Their son, William², married Mary Kettle. William³, son of William², married Deborah Balch, and their son Daniel⁴ married Elizabeth Blackmer. Lemuel⁵, son of Daniel, married Hannah Underwood, and their son Sewall⁶ married Sarah Hopkins. Their son James Sewall⁷ Raymond, M. D., is the father of Mary Edith. Her mother is Helen, dau. of Sylvester and Judith (Stow) Partridge and sister of Sylvester Partridge, for many years a missionary at Swatow, China. Her grandmother, Judith Stow, was a sister of Rev. Baron Stow, for many years the distinguished pastor of the Clarendon Street Baptist church in Boston. Her great-grandfather, Sylvester Partridge, son of Samuel Partridge who was born Apr. 1743, married Sarah Collins.

The following is from the History of Plymouth Plantation, by William Bradford, page 383 of the Mass. Hist. Society's collections for 1886. "Mr. Partridge was the first minister of Duxbury. He was settled over the church there in 1637. He arrived in Boston, Nov. 18, 1636. Mather has honored him with a brief notice in his Magnalia. He died in 1658."

The records of the family between 1658 and 1742 cannot be found.

CHAMBERLAIN.

Sarah² Proctor, dau. of Robert¹, married, Aug. 10, 1666, Thomas Chamberlain of the second generation of the name in this country. Their son Thomas³ married Abigail Nutting, and their son Simeon¹ married Hannah Marsh. Their daughter Sarah¹ Chamberlain married Isaac Estey the great-grandfather of General Julius J. Estey of Brattleboro, Vt.

PROCTOR HOMESTEAD IN TOWNSEND.

The following items of interest in connection with the Old Homestead in Townsend, mentioned under No. 390, have been furnished by Mr. Oliver Proctor, its present occupant.

Kidder's History of New Ipswich, N. H., says: "Proctor, Oliver, born in Chelmsford in 1721, was here in 1752. He owned what was afterwards Rev. Mr. Farrar's farm, and his house stood near the site of the old Academy until after the Revolution. He probably left town when he disposed of his land to Rev. Mr. Farrar about 1762."

This was Oliver¹ (No. 38). In 1762 he purchased a farm in Townsend, Mass., on which he resided until he removed, in 1773, to the Old Homestead, which he bought in November of that year of Ephraim Warren. Here he passed most of his remaining days. His oldest son, Oliver² (No. 82), was soon admitted to an equal share of ownership and eventually became sole proprietor, leaving it to his son, Abner³ (No. 182), who passed it on to his son, Oliver⁴ (No. 390), its present owner and occupant.

Two gatherings which have taken place at the Old Homestead are worthy of notice. The first occurred Sept. 1, 1863, when six children of Oliver² and Mary (Manning) Proctor, whose ages averaged more than eighty years, yet all enjoying remarkable health and vigor, met here for a family visit. Joseph, the youngest, was 76 years old; Abner, who had always lived and labored on the farm where he was born, was 77 years old; Isaac, a resident of Franklin, N. H., 79; John, 80; Oliver, who came from his home in Fair Haven, Vt., more than 160 miles, almost 84; and Mary, the only sister, almost 83. The brothers were all farmers, and all of them up to the time of this meeting, and some of them for years afterwards, were able to work, and the sister, although lame, was in the possession of all her faculties and able to do many kinds of work.

The sum of the ages of the six was 481 years, 5 months and 28 days. The ages of deceased members of the family added to this make an aggregate family life of more than 705 years.

The occasion was one of very deep and tender interest to all who had the privilege of being present, especially to the elder brother and sister who bore the names of the departed father and mother. All of the six survived several years after the meeting, Abner and Isaac dying at the age of 82, John, 84, Oliver and Joseph, 87, and Mary almost 95, making the remarkable average of more than 86 years for the ages of five brothers and one sister.

Of the sister her nephew writes, "at this advanced age such was the tenacious hold which life possessed, such was its vigor and power of resistance, that it withstood the attack of that unrelenting disease dysentery, for three weeks ere it yielded the unequal contest. The Proctor name was dear to her. Often would she rehearse the ancestral traditions and pedigrees of which she never wearied. No higher position did her ambition crave than to be enrolled among her kindred. Affection, true and devoted, seeks to pay a just tribute to the revered memory of Mary French Proctor by presenting a portrait (opposite page 41) from a photograph taken when she was far advanced in years.

The second of the two gatherings which have been alluded to took place June 29, 1886, when a large company of friends and neighbors assembled to celebrate the birthday of Mrs. Betsey (Davis) Proctor (see No. 182) and to congratulate her upon having attained, in good health and with calm assurance of christian hope the great age of ninety years. Mrs. Proctor's brother, Mr. Seth Davis, at the age of ninety-nine, was the oldest guest, and next to him was one of his former pupils, Mr. Benjamin Barrett, aged ninety-four. Of the others present six were over eighty years of age, and eight between seventy and eighty. Well furnished tables, at which one hundred persons were seated, were spread in the spacious barn. Several clergymen and other prominent citizens made congratulatory addresses, original poems were read by Mrs. Ralph Ball, a daughter of Mrs. Betsey Proctor, and by Miss Myra Proctor, and there was singing led by Nillo, son of Mr. Oliver Proctor, at the organ.

Of Mrs. Betsey Proctor's children there were present Mr. Oliver Proctor and wife, Mr. Abner Proctor and wife, Mrs. Ralph Ball and husband, Mrs. Albert Turner and husband, Mrs. Charles Hastings and husband, and Mrs. James Farley.

SPEECH OF SENATOR REDFIELD PROCTOR IN THE UNITED STATES SENATE, MARCH 17, 1898. (SEE PAGE 116.)

More importance seems to be attached by others to my recent visit to Cuba than I have given it. It has been suggested that I make a public statement of what I saw and how the situation impressed me. This I do on account of the public interest in all that concerns Cuba, and to correct any inaccuracies that have not unnaturally appeared in some of the reported interviews with me. My trip was entirely unofficial, and of my own motion; not suggested by any one. The only mention I made of it to the President was to say to him that I contemplated such a trip, and to ask him if there was any objection to it, to which he replied that he could see none. No one but myself, therefore, is responsible for anything in this statement. Judge Day gave me a brief note of introduction to Gen. Lee, and I had letters of introduction from business friends at the North to bankers and other business men at Havana, and they in turn gave me letters to their correspondents in other cities. These letters to business men were very useful, as one principal purpose of my visit was to ascertain the views of practical men of affairs upon the situation.

Of Gen. Lee I need say little. His valuable services to his country in his trying position are too well known to all his countrymen to require mention. Besides his ability, high character, and courage, he possesses the requisite of unfailing tact and courtesy, and withal his military education and training, and his soldierly qualities, are invaluable adjuncts in the equipment of our representative in a country so completely under military rule as is Cuba. Gen. Lee kindly invited us to sit at his table at the hotel during our stay in Havana, and this opportunity for frequent informal talks with him was of great help to me. In addition to the information he voluntarily gave me it furnished a convenient opportunity to ask him the many questions that suggested themselves in explanation of things seen and heard on our trips through the country. I also met and spent considerable time with Consul Brice, at Matanzas, and with Capt. Barker, a staunch ex-Confederate soldier, at Sagua la Grande, a friend of the Senator from Mississippi (Mr. Walthall). None of our representatives whom I met in Cuba are of my political faith, but there is a broader faith not bounded by party lines. They are all three true Americans, and have done excellent service.

It has been stated that I said there was no doubt the Maine was blown up from the outside. This is a mistake. I may have said that such was the general impression among Americans in Havana. In fact, I have no opinion about it myself, and carefully avoided forming one. I gave no attention to these outside surmises. I met the members of the court on their boat, but would as soon approach our Supreme Court in regard to a pending case as that board. They are as competent and trustworthy within the lines of their duty as any court in the land, and their report when made will carry conviction to all the people that the exact truth has been stated just as far as it is possible to ascertain it. And until then surmise and conjecture are idle and unprofitable. Let us calmly wait for the report.

There are six provinces in Cuba, each, with the exception of Matanzas, extending the whole width of the island, and having about an equal sea front on the north and south borders. Matanzas touches the Caribbean Sea only at its southwest corner, being separated from it elsewhere by a narrow peninsula of Santa Clara province. The provinces are named, beginning at the west, Pinar del Rio, Havana, Matanzas, Santa Clara, Puerto Principe, and Santiago de Cuba. My observations were confined to the four western provinces, which constitute about one half the island. The two eastern ones are practically in the hands of the insurgents except the few fortified towns. These two large provinces are spoken of to-day as "Cuba Libre."

Havana, the great city and capital of the island, is, in the eyes of the Spaniards and many Cubans, all Cuba, as much as Paris is France. But having visited it in more peaceful times and seen its sights, the tomb of Columbus, the forts, Cabana and Moro Castle, etc., I did not care to repeat this, preferring trips in the country. Everything seems to go on much as usual in Havana. Quiet prevails, and except for the frequent squads of soldiers marching to guard and police and their abounding presence in all public places, one sees little sign of war.

Outside Havana all is changed. It is not peace, nor is it war. It is desolation and distress, misery and starvation. Every town and village is surrounded by a trocha (trench), a sort of rifle pit, but constructed on a plan new to me, the dirt being thrown up on the inside and a barbed wire fence on the outer side of the trench. These trochas have at every corner and at frequent intervals along the sides what are there called forts, but which are really small block houses, many of them more like a large sentry box, loop held for musketry, and with a guard of from two to ten soldiers in each. The purpose of these trochas is to keep the reconcentrados in, as well as to keep the insurgents out. From all the surrounding country the people have been driven into these fortified towns, and held there to subsist as they can. They are virtually prison yards, and not unlike one in general appearance, except the walls are not so high and strong, but they suffice, where every point is in range of a soldier's rifle, to keep in the poor reconcentrado women and children. Every railroad station is within one of these trochas, and has an armed guard.

Every train has an armored freight car, loop-holed for musketry, and filled with soldiers and with, as I observed usually and was informed is always the case, a pilot engine a mile or so in advance. There are frequent blockhouses inclosed by a trocha and with a guard along the railroad track. With this exception there is no human life or habitation between these fortified towns and villages and throughout the whole of the four western provinces, except to a very limited extent among the hills where the Spaniards have not been able to go and drive the people to the towns and burn their dwellings. I saw no house or hut in the 400 miles of railroad ride from Pinar del Rio province in the west across the full width of Havana and Matanzas province, and to Sagua la Grande on the north shore and to Cienfuegos on the south shore of Santa Clara, except within the Spanish trochas. There are no domestic animals or crops on the rich fields or pastures, except such as are under guard in the immediate vicinity of the towns. In other words, the Spaniards hold in these four western provinces just what their army sits on. Every man, woman and child, and every domestic animal, wherever their columns have reached, is under guard and within their so-called fortifications. To describe one place is to describe all. To repeat, it is neither peace nor war; it is reconcentration and desolation. This is the "pacified" condition of the four western provinces.

West of Havana is mainly the rich tobacco country; east, so far as I went, a sugar region. Nearly all the sugar mills are destroyed between Havana and Sagua. Two or three were standing in the vicinity of Sagua, and in part running, surrounded, as are the villages, by trochas and "forts" or palisades of the royal palm and fully guarded. Toward and near Cienfuegos there were more mills running, but all with the same protection. It is said that the owners of these mills near Cienfuegos have been able to obtain special favors of the Spanish government in the way of a large force of soldiers, but that they also, as well as all the railroads, pay taxes to the Cubans for immunity. I had no means of verifying this. It is the common talk among those who have better means of knowledge.

All the country people in the four western provinces, about 400,000 in number, remaining outside the fortified towns when Weyler's order was made, were driven into these towns, and these are the reconcentrados. They were the peasantry, many of them farmers, some land owners, others renting lands and owning more or less stock, others working on estates and cultivating small patches; and even a small patch in that fruitful clime will support a family. It is but fair to say that the normal condition of these people was very different from that which prevails in this country. Their standard of comfort and prosperity was not high, measured by our own. But according to their standards and requirements their conditions of life were satisfactory.

They lived mostly in cabins made of palm or in wooden houses. Some of them had houses of stone, the blackened walls of which are all that remain to show that the country was ever inhabited. The first clause of Weyler's order, with "1 order and command," in large type, reads as follows:

"1 ORDER AND COMMAND.

"First, all the inhabitants of the country or outside of the lines of fortifications of the towns shall, within the period of eight days, concentrate themselves in the towns so occupied by the troops. Any individual who, after the expiration of this period, is found in the uninhabited parts, will be considered as a rebel and tried as such."

The other three sections forbid the transportation of provisions from one town to another without permission of the military authority, direct the owners of cattle to bring them into the towns, prescribe that the eight days shall be counted from the publication of the proclamation to the head town of the municipal districts, and state that if news is furnished of the enemy which can be made use of it will serve as a "recommendation."

Many doubtless did not learn of this order. Others failed to grasp its terrible meaning. Its execution was left largely to the guerillas to drive in all that had not obeyed, and I was informed that in many cases a torch was applied to their homes with no notice, and the inmates fled with such clothing as they might have on, their stock and other belongings being appropriated by the guerillas. When they reached the towns they were allowed to build huts of palm leaves in the suburbs and vacant places within the trocha, and left to live if they could. Their huts are about ten by fifteen feet in size, and for want of space are usually crowded together very closely. They have no floor but the ground and no furniture, and after a year's wear but little clothing, except such stray substitutes as they can extemporize. With large families, or with more than one, in this little space, the commonest sanitary provisions are impossible. Conditions are unmentionable in this respect. Torn from their homes, with foul earth, foul air, foul water, and foul food, or none, what wonder that one-half have died, and that one quarter of the living are so diseased that they cannot be saved. A form of dropsy is a common disorder resulting from these conditions. Little children are still walking about with arms and chest terribly emaciated, eyes swollen, and abdomen bloated to three times its natural size. The physicians say these cases are hopeless.

Deaths in the street have not been uncommon. I was told by one of our consuls that they have been found dead about the markets in the morning, where they had crawled hoping to get some stray bits of food from the early hucksters, and that there had been cases where they had dropped dead inside the market surrounded by food. These people were independent and self-supporting before Weyler's order. They are not beggars even now. There are plenty of professional beggars in every town among the regular residents, but these country people, the reconcentrados, have not learned the art. Rarely is a hand held out to you for alms when going among their huts, but the sight of them makes an appeal stronger than words.

Of the hospitals I need not speak. Others have described their conditions far better than I can. It is not within the narrow limits of my vocabulary to portray it. I went to Cuba with a strong conviction that the picture had been overdrawn; that a few cases of starvation and suffering had inspired and stimulated the press correspondents, and they had given free play to a strong, natural, and highly cultivated imagination. Before starting I received through the mail a leaflet published by the Christian Herald, with cuts of some of the sick and starving reconcentrados, and took it with me, thinking these were rare specimens got up to make the worst possible showing.

I saw plenty as bad, and worse; many that should not be photographed and shown. I could not believe that out of a population of 1,600,000 two hundred thousand had died within these Spanish forts, practically prison walls, within a few months past from actual starvation and disease caused by insufficient and improper food. My inquiries were entirely outside of sensational sources. They were made of our medical officers, of our consuls, of city alcaldes (mayors), of relief committees, of leading merchants and bankers, physicians, and lawyers. Several of my informants were Spanish born, but every time the answer was that the case had not been overstated. What I saw I cannot tell so that others can see it. It must be seen with one's own eyes to be realized. The Los Pasos hospital, in Havana, has been recently described by one of my colleagues, Senator Gallinger, and I cannot say that his picture was overdrawn for even his fertile pen could not do that. He visited it after Dr. Lessar, one of Miss Barton's very able and efficient assistants, had renovated it and put in cots. I saw it when four hundred women and children were lying on the stone floors in an indescribable state of emaciation and disease, many with the scantiest covering of rags, and such rags, and sick children, naked as they came into the world. And the conditions in the other cities are even worse.

Miss Barton needs no indorsement from me. I had known and esteemed her for many years, but had not half appreciated her capability and devotion to her work. I especially looked into her business methods, fearing there would be the greatest danger of mistake, that there might be want of system, and waste and extravagance, but found she could teach me on these points. I visited the warehouse where the supplies are received and distributed; saw the methods of checking; visited the hospitals established or organized and supplied by her; saw the food distributions in several cities and towns, and everything seems to be conducted in the best manner possible. The ample warehouse in Havana, owned by a Cuban firm, is given with a gang of laborers free of charge, to unload and reship supplies. The children's hospital in Havana, a very large, fine private residence, is hired at the cost of less than $100 per month, not a fifth of what it would command in this city. It is under the admirable management of Mrs. Dr. Lessar of New York, a German lady, and trained nurse. I saw the rapid improvement of the first children taken there. All Miss Barton's assistants are excellently fitted for their duties. In short, I saw nothing to criticize, but everything to commend. The American people may be assured that their bounty will reach the sufferers with the least possible cost and in the best manner in every respect. And if our people could see a small fraction of the need they would pour more "freely from their liberal store" than ever before for any cause.

When will the need for this help end? Not until peace comes and the reconcentrados can go back to their country, rebuild their homes, reclaim their tillage plots, which quickly run up to brush in that wonderful soil and clime, and until they can be free from danger of molestation in so doing. Until then the American people must in the main care for them. It is true that the alcaldes, other local authorities and relief committees are now trying to do something and desire, I believe, to do the best they can. But the problem is beyond their means and capacity, and the work is one to which they are not accustomed.

Gen. Blanco's order of November 13, last, somewhat modifies the Weyler order, but it is of little or no practical benefit. Its application is limited to farms "properly defended" and the owners are obliged to build "centers of defense." Its execution is completely in the discretion of the local military authorities, and they know the terrible military efficiency of Weyler's order in stripping the country of all possible shelter, food, or source of information for an insurgent, and will be slow to surrender this advantage. In fact, though the order was issued four months ago, I saw no beneficent results from it worth mentioning. I do not impugn Gen. Blanco's motives, and believe him to be an amiable gentleman, and that he would be glad to relieve the condition of the reconcentrados if he could do so without loss of any military advantage, but he knows that all Cubans are insurgents at heart, and none now under military control will be allowed to go from under it.

I wish I might speak of the country, of its surpassing richness. I have never seen one to compare with it. On this point I agree with Columbus, and believe every one between his time and mine must be of the same opinion. It is indeed a land "where every prospect pleases, and only man is vile."

I had but little time to study the race question, and have read nothing on it, so can only give hasty impressions. It is said that there are nearly 200,000 Spaniards in Cuba out of a total population of 1,600,000. They live principally in the towns and cities. The small shopkeepers in the towns and their clerks are mostly Spaniards. Much of the larger business, too, and of the property in the cities, and in a large degree in the country, is in their hands. They have an eye to thrift, and as everything possible in the way of trade and legalized monopolies, in which the country abounds, is given to them by the government, many of them acquire property. I did not learn that the Spanish residents of the island had contributed largely in blood or treasure to suppress the insurrection.

There are, or were before the war, about 1,000,000 Cubans on the island, 200,000 Spaniards (which means those born in Spain), and less than half a million of negroes and mixed blood. The Cuban whites are pure Spanish blood, and, like the Spaniards, usually dark in complexion, but oftener light or blond, so far as I noticed, than the Spaniards. The percentage of colored to white has been steadily diminishing for more than fifty years, and is not now over twenty-five per cent. of the total. In fact, the colored people have been actually diminishing for nearly that time. The Cuban farmer and laborer is by nature peaceable, kindly, gay, hospitable, light-hearted, and improvident. There is a proverb among the Cubans that "Spanish bulls cannot be bred in Cuba," that is, that the Cubans, though they are of Spanish blood, are less excitable and of a quieter temperment. Many Cubans whom I met spoke in strong terms against bull fights; that it was a brutal institution, introduced and mainly patronized by the Spaniards. One thing that was new to me was to learn the superiority of the well-to-do Cuban over the Spaniard in the matter of education. Among those in good circumstances there can be no doubt that the Cuban is far superior in this respect. And the reason of it is easy to see. They have been educated in England, France or this country, while the Spaniard has such education as his own country furnished.

The colored people seem to me, by nature, quite the equal, mentally and physically, of the race in this country. Certainly physically they are by far the larger and stronger race on the island. There is little or no race prejudice and this has doubtless been greatly to their advantage. Eighty-five years ago there were one-half as many free negroes as slaves, and this proportion was slowly increasing until emancipation.

It is said that there are about 60,000 Spanish soldiers now in Cuba fit for duty out of over 200,000 that have been sent there. The rest have died, been sent home sick, and in the hospitals, and some have been killed, notwithstanding the official reports. They are conscripts, many of them very young, and generally small men. One hundred and thirty pounds is a fair estimate of their average weight. They are quiet and obedient, and if well drilled and led I believe would fight fairly well, but not at all equal to our men. Much more would depend on the leadership than with us. The officer must lead well, and be one in whom they have confidence, and this applies to both sides alike. As I saw no drills or regular formation I inquired about them of many persons, and was informed that they had never seen a drill. I saw perhaps 10,000

Spanish troops, but not a piece of artillery nor a tent. They live in barracks in the towns, and are seldom out for more than a day, returning to town at night.

They have little or no equipment for supply trains or for a field campaign such as we have. Their cavalry horses are scrubby little native ponies, weighing not over 800 pounds, tough and hardy, but for the most part in wretched condition, reminding one of the mounts of Don Quixote and his squire. Some of the officers, however, have good horses, mostly American, I think. On both sides cavalry is considered the favorite, and the dangerous fighting arm. The tactics of the Spanish, as described to me by an eyewitness and participant in some of their battles, is for the infantry when threatened by insurgent cavalry to form a hollow square and fire away ad libitum and without ceasing until time to march back to town. It does not seem to have entered the minds of either side that a good infantry force can take care of itself and repulse everywhere an equal number of cavalry, and there are everywhere positions where cavalry would be at a disadvantage.

Having called on Gov. and Capt. Gen. Blanco and received his courteous call in return, I could not, with propriety, seek communication with insurgents. I had plenty of offers of safe conduct to Gomez's camp, and was told that if I would write him an answer would be returned safely within ten days at most. I saw several who had visited the insurgent camps, and was sought out by an insurgent field officer, who gave me the best information received as to the insurgent force. His statements were moderate, and I was credibly informed that he was entirely reliable. He claimed that the Cubans had about 30,000 now in the field, some in every province, but mostly in the two eastern provinces and eastern Santa Clara, and this statement was corroborated from other good sources.

They have a force all the time in Havana province itself, organized as four small brigades, and operating in small bands. Ruiz was taken, tried, and shot within a mile and a half of the railroad, and about fifteen miles out of Havana on the road to Matanzas, a road more traveled than any other, and which I went over four times.

Arranguen was killed about three miles the other side of the road and about the same distance, fifteen or twenty miles, from Havana. They were well armed, but very poorly supplied with ammunition. They are not allowed to carry many cartridges; sometimes not more than one or two. The infantry especially are poorly clad. Two small squads of prisoners which I saw, however, one of half a dozen in the streets of Havana, and one of three on the cars, were better clothed than the average Spanish soldier. Each of these prisoners, though surrounded by guards, was bound by the arms and wrists by cords, and they were all tied together by a cord, running along the line, a specimen of the amenities of their warfare. About one-third of the Cuban Army are colored, mostly in the infantry, as the cavalry furnished their own horses. This field officer, an American from a Southern State, spoke in the highest terms of the conduct of these colored soldiers; that they were as good fighters and had more endurance than the whites; could keep up with the cavalry on a long march, and come in fresh at night.

The dividing lines between parties are the most straight and clear cut that have ever come to my knowledge. The division in our war was by no means so clearly defined. It is Cuban against Spaniard. It is practically the entire Cuban population on one side and the Spanish army and the Spanish citizens on the other. I do not count the autonomists in this division, as they are, so far, too inconsiderable in numbers to be worth counting. Gen. Blanco filled the civil offices with men who had been autonomists and were still classed as such. But the march of events had satisfied most of them that the chance for autonomy came too late.

It falls as talk of compromise would have fallen the last year or two of our war. If it succeeds it can only be by armed force, by the triumph of the Spanish army, and the success of Spanish arms would be easier by Weyler's policy and method, for in that the Spanish army and people believe. There is no doubt that Gen. Blanco is acting in entire good faith, that he desires to give the Cubans a fair measure of autonomy, as Campos did at the close of the ten years' war. He has, of course, a few personal followers but the army and Spanish citizens do not want genuine autonomy, for that means government by the Cuban people. And it is not strange that the Cubans say it comes too late. I have never had any communication, direct or indirect, with the Cuban junta in this country, or any of its members, nor did I have with any of the junta which exists in every city and large town of Cuba.

None of the calls I made were upon parties of whose sympathies I had the least knowledge, except that I knew some of them were classed as autonomists. Most of my informants were business men who had no sides and rarely expressed themselves. I had no means of guessing in advance what their answers would be, and was, in most cases, greatly surprised at their frankness. I inquired in regard to autonomy of men of wealth and men as prominent in business as any in the cities of Havana, Matanzas and Sagua, bankers, merchants, lawyers, and autonomist officials, some of them Spanish-born but Cuban-bred, one prominent Englishman, several of them known as autonomists, and several of them telling me they were still believers in autonomy, if practicable, but, without exception, they replied that it was "too late" for that. Some favored a United States protectorate, some annexation, some Free Cuba, not one has been counted favoring the insurrection at first. They were business men, and wanted peace, but said it was too late for peace under Spanish sovereignty. They characterized Weyler's order in far stronger terms than I can. I could not but conclude that you do not have to scratch an autonomist very deep to find a Cuban. There is soon to be an election, but every polling place must be inside a fortified town. Such election ought to be safe for "ins."

I have endeavored to state in not intemperate mood what I saw and heard, and to make no argument thereon, but leave every one to draw his own conclusions. To me the strongest is not the barbarity practiced by Weyler nor the loss of the Maine, if our worst fears should prove true, terrible as are both of these incidents, but the spectacle of a million and a half of people, the entire native population of Cuba, struggling for freedom and deliverance from the worst misgovernment of which I ever had knowledge. But whether our action ought to be influenced by any one or all these things, and, if so, how far, is another question. I am not in favor of annexation, not because I would apprehend any particular trouble from it, but because it is not wise policy to take in any people of foreign tongue or training, and without any strong guiding American element. The fear that if free the people of Cuba would be revolutionary is not so well founded as has been supposed, and the conditions for good self-government are far more favorable. The large number of educated and patriotic men, the great sacrifices they have endured, the peaceable temperament of the people, whites and blacks, the wonderful prosperity that would surely come with peace and good home rule, the large influx of American and English immigration and money, would all be strong factors for stable institutions.

But it is not my purpose at this time, nor do I consider it my province to suggest any plan. I merely speak of the symptoms as I saw them, but do not undertake to prescribe such remedial steps as may be required, which may safely be left to an American President and the American people.

married Elizabeth Clark of New London, Conn., then a widow "much esteemed for her talents and virtuous character." They lived happily many years and prospered in acquiring property. He purchased and loaded a small vessel and sailed for the West Indies accompanied by his younger brother Asa. Before they reached their destination they found, at an island, a vessel owned in New London, the crew all having died of yellow fever and the cargo receiving damage. Asa stopped to take charge of the vessel and cargo and Abel proceeded on his voyage. After disposing of his cargo, he went up a river, about twenty miles from his vessel, to purchase coffee. In a day or two the Captain who remained with the vessel heard he was ill, so started to go to him and reached the place in the evening to hear he "died the day before and was buried an hour ago."
